

A vision of connecting minds

From the very first beginning The Mind Connection has been a revolutionary company, allowing home users to experience biofeedback technology that was previously only available within the medical industry.

The Mind Connection never lost its innovative character and likes to stay on top of things. With the new MIndsurfer, The Mind Connection opens up the world of biofeedback technology to online gaming and collaboration.

The vision of The Mind Connection is a world where minds can meet without the restrictive interface of language.
